THIEVES STAY IN BROOKLYN.

Have No Trouble in Robbing Houses and Getting Away.

The Begun "Farmer" Pursuing His Thefts with Impunity.

Thieves entered the residence of Ienar Newhouse, 55 Cedar street, Brooklyn, several days ago, and stole a suit of clothes containing $34. At 2 o'clock this morning inmates heard somebody moving about. Upon going downstairs they found a man trying to climb through a rear window. They grabbed him and called for the police.

The fellow struggled desperately, but was overpowered and carried to the Twentieth Precinct Station-House, a block away. When searched a couple of hundred dollars and two keys were found. Newhouse called at the station-house later and identified the handkerchiefs. He said he left them in the pockets of the suit of clothes stolen a few days ago.

The prisoner described himself as John Thatch, twenty-four years old, residing in a tenement in the East River.

The young swindler, who poses as a farmer, whose name was exposed in "The Evening World" a few days ago, turned up in South Brooklyn to-day. He called on Mrs. Susan McDonald, of 123 Nelson street, and asked to see the best butter for 20 cents a pound. Mrs. McDonald gave him a bill in payment for a purchase of butter, but, after he had left, he returned and asked for the bill. He has not returned, and will not go on.

A sneak thief entered the choir room in Grace M. E. Church, Seventh avenue and St. John's place, Brooklyn, Sunday night and stole an overcoat, hat, fur gloves and umbrella belonging to William S. Lincoln, of 123 Ashland street, Brooklyn.

At the residence of Mrs. J. B. Breen, 123 Ashland street, Brooklyn, a young man known as Fred Collins, who was hired several weeks ago to assist him, had disappeared. Taylor said two silver communion cups and a clock belonging to the church, were also missing.

PRIMARY ROWS IN COURT.

Big Republican Houses Appear as Prisoners.

Col. Charles B. Morton, Secretary of the Kings County Republican General Committee, was arraigned before Justice Quinlan in the Gates Avenue Police Court, Brooklyn, to-day, charged with making fraudulent returns at a primary election. Hugh Mitchell is a fellow-prisoner on the same charge.

The complainant is Frank A. Mason, a leader of the opposition to Col. Morton and his backers, Robert Sharkey and Jacob Worth.

The primary of the district association, Fifth district, of the Kings County Republican Party, was held on Dec. 28 at 54 Morton street, Brooklyn. Mr. Mason complains that on while there were 100 voters, only 40 were counted. A subsequent canvass showed that only forty-four regular members of the district association voted, of which twenty-three voted against Col. Morton. Col. Morton and Mitchell entered a plea of not guilty and were held in $500 bonds each for examination.

Lawyer Rowe, of Blauvelt & Rowe, this morning appeared for the defense of several other persons in the Twenty-fifth Ward for illegal voting.

An indictment returned against William H. Wray, accused of receiving illegal votes in the Thirtieth District of the Twenty-fifth Ward.

AGREED TO DISAGREE.

Two Juries Stood Six to Six in a Divorce Trial.

For the second time within six months Engineer Emil Anderson, of 303 Seventh street, Brooklyn, has been unsuccessful in getting a decree of divorce from Bella Anderson. A jury in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, Justice Loudon presiding, returned a verdict of disagreement. On the original trial a few months ago a similar verdict was given. In each case the jury stood six to six.

The principal witnesses against Mrs. Anderson were Mrs. Lucy E. Turner and Mrs. Kennedy, daughters of Mrs. Kennedy, owner of the house in which the Andersons live.

Mrs. Anderson declares the scheme is a conspiracy to break up her home and ruin her.

He says that Postmaster Sullivan is threatened with pneumonia, and that he is not a robust man and could not long withstand an attack on his lungs.

Jenkins, E. W. Bliss, John Engle, C. H. Campbell, C. W. Hoadley, J. A. Burt, Charles F. Young, William Marshall, Crowell Hadden and Daniel F. Lewis.

Child Left Alone, Matches, Death.

A two-year-old child, Murphy, whose parents live at 24 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, died in Long Island County Jail early this morning from burns received while playing with matches. During his mother's absence the child climbed up on a chair, took matches from the mantle and set himself on fire.

SALOON-KEEPERS WERE ALARMED.

Saloon-keepers in Brooklyn were surprised this morning by the appearance of policemen to inspect licenses. Commissioner Welles issued a general order to captains requiring a detailed report on licenses of every liquor and beer saloon in their precincts, to be used in an annual report.

Child Hit with a Hammer.

Ten-year-old Henry McGuire, of 264 Plymouth street, Brooklyn, is confined to a cot in the City Hospital to-day, suffering from a fracture of the skull, received while playing with a hammer. Charles Patrick, of 236 Santa street, who struck him on the head with a hammer.

Somebody Will Be Badly Deceived.

LAIDLAW'S THIRD SUIT.

Again He Tries to Get Damages for Acting as Sage's Buffer.

The third chapter in William R. Laidlaw's suit for $100,000 against Russell Sage opened to-day before Justice Patterson in Part I. of the Supreme Court, and from present indications it will be even more interesting than the two that have preceded it.

Laidlaw says Sage pulled him between the bomb-throws and himself, and that Sage's counsel appealed to the General Term of the Supreme Court, which ordered a new trial, and it is this trial which is on today.

Neither Russell Sage nor Laidlaw had put in an appearance when the court opened at 11 o'clock. Both, however, were represented by counsel.

Col. James with four or five assistants looked after Sage's interests. Joseph Choate with half a dozen other legal luminaries looked after Mr. Laidlaw's.

The lawyers started in to select a jury, and at a very early hour there were a dozen or more in the courtroom. The questioning, and one by one they were bowed out.

Finally after one juror had been secured, an adjournment was agreed to until 10:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.

PALFREY MUST GET $50.

If He Fails to Do So in Five Days He Goes to Jail.

The clerks of Lawyer Maurice Meyer, who have been trying to serve Edward D. Palfrey with Judge McCarthy's order placing him in contempt of Court and fining him $50, did not succeed until this morning. Now Mr. Palfrey will have five days in which to raise the money to keep him out of jail.

Palfrey was due at Referee Stein's office at 11 o'clock to-day in order that his examination in the supplementary proceedings, in which his wife is the judgment creditor, might be held. But at that hour neither he nor lawyer Menken, who represents Mr. Palfrey, had come to the office.

At the expiration of the half hour of grace, to the minute, Mr. Palfrey came with lawyer Menken. Mr. Palfrey immediately took the stand. His examination occupied fifteen minutes, and he went away with a good feeling of relief.

A motion was made by Mr. Menken yesterday before Judge Fitzsimons to set aside the second order to bring Mrs. Palfrey into supplementary proceedings. The Judge decided that the proceedings must take place in court before the order could be set aside. Mr. Palfrey, as judgment debtor, to appear before him in City Court Chambers at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

BUDDENSIK'S PROPERTY.

Salt Brought to Set Aside a Conveyance of 1886.

John Quinlan Adams Conner, a stone contractor, of Sullivan County, has brought suit in the Superior Court against Charles A. Buddeniek, a contractor who was committed to State prison in June, 1886, for criminal negligence in causing a fire to break out in a house at Eleventh avenue and Sixty-first street.

Conner recovered a judgment for $302 against Buddeniek in November, 1886, and the present action is brought to set aside the conveyance of Buddeniek's property at Seventy-seventh street and up other avenues at 10 o'clock to-day. The property was conveyed to Conner in June, 1886, on the ground that it was done with intent to defraud Buddeniek's creditors, and to avoid the satisfaction of Conner's judgment.

Buddeniek's attorney, William Doll, said that Buddeniek was a brother-in-law and the property was transferred to him by Buddeniek previous to the latter's trial so that Buddeniek might furnish security to George W. A. Trellis, who was arrested on a charge of murder.

W. A. Trellis appears for Conner and J. A. Franks represents Buddeniek.

HE REMOVED THE WINDOWS.

Then Derkewitz Got Ugly and Was Fined for Contempt.

Sigmund Derkewitz, of Brooklyn, was fined $50 for contempt of court by Justice Goldfogle, in the Fifth District Court, to-day.

Derkewitz used violent language, created a disturbance and resisted the order of the Court to arraign him before the bar. The Justice then inquired into the case, and Mrs. Samuel Auerbach, a poorly dressed young woman, with a six months' old baby in her arms, told the Justice that Derkewitz came to her room, at 33 Lewis street, and removed the back windows. Derkewitz, the brother of Michael Myers, the owner of the tenement, Mrs. Myers had obtained a dispossession notice against Derkewitz, and he had removed the windows. Derkewitz, who was a striking clockmaker, and owed Mrs. Myers $40, had been arrested by the police, and gave Derkewitz a lecture. Then Marshal Moses took him to jail.

ALL HIS BAGGAGE GONE.

Strange Adventure of a Young Englishman with a Cabbie.

An Englishman, about twenty-five years old, called at Police Headquarters to-day to ask Inspector McLaughlin's aid to recover his baggage. He thinks he has been hoodwinked.

The young man, whose name Inspector McLaughlin refuses to divulge, arrived from England on the Aurania yesterday. He told the Inspector he entered a cab and told the driver to take him to the Grosvenor Hotel, at Ninth street and Fifth avenue. He was taken to the hotel, where he remained until midnight, and was unable to find the cabman.

The young man took a cab and drove about the city until 1 o'clock this morning, trying to find the place. Failing to do so he appealed to the police.

He said he believed the cabman had taken him to the wrong house so as to rob him of his baggage.

LA RUE LOSES HIS CASE.

He Sued Cumner for $50,000 Damages for Slander.

The $50,000 slander suit brought by George W. La Rue against Arthur W. Cumner was ended in the United States Court to-day. The jury found a verdict in favor of Cumner.

La Rue was Secretary-Treasurer and General Manager of the French-American Bank of New York, and Cumner was the Boston agent of the company. La Rue claimed that Cumner said that La Rue had been discharged from the position for stealing, and that he had been shadowed constantly by detectives. La Rue proved that he had not been discharged, but had resigned.

People who want something for nothing want the elevator. A B. C. C. elevator was offered as a gift to whoever would take it away. P. Sampson & Co., proprietors of the Courrier des Etats-Unis, made the offer. The offer was made at a public dinner, and no one had appeared who had any use for it.

NEW JERSEY SAVE THE PALISADES.

Gov. Werts Demands that New Jersey Protect the Hills.

Should Also Prevent Private Ownership of Water Supply.

His Message to the Legislature—The Comptroller's Report.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 8.—Gov. Werts's message was read to the Legislature to-day. In it he first reviews the finances of the State, alluding to the Comptroller's report on the fiscal year ending Oct. 31, 1894, as unequalled in the history of the State, notwithstanding the monetary and industrial depression. The balance in bank is $986,352.91, against $724,088.12 for the preceding year. It is advised that appropriations be made carefully, so as not to impair the balance in hand.

Inadequate prison capacity is strongly pointed out, the number of convicts in the State prison being 326 larger than the number of cells, making separate confinement, as directed by law, impossible. A Prison Commission is deemed necessary, and a State Reformatory is suggested.

The progress made by the National Guard is alluded to with pride. Hope is expressed that a naval reserve will be organized to make up the $10,000 shortage of the Columbian Exposition Commission. The State should control its water supply, and the right of eminent domain should be used to acquire the water rights of the State.

FOUR BIG BUILDINGS STRUCK.

Hoffman House and New York Life's Structure Included.

The buildings include those of the New York Life Insurance Company, at Leonard street and Broadway; the Hoffman House, at Sixty-sixth street and Avenue A; the Hoffman House, at Broadway and Twenty-fifth street, and Murdoch's residence, at Riverside Drive and Seventy-fourth street. Two other jobs of the same kind were struck yesterday.

The strikers include steam-fitters and boiler-makers, pipe-fitters, electricians, wiremen, carpenters, painters and decorators, holding engineers and elevator constructors. All were confident they would win the strike and thus force the employers to employ union plumbers only and pay union wages.

PLATE GLASS MEN COMBINE.

War Averred and Prices Will Go Up 20 Per Cent.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Chicago representatives of the two biggest plate glass companies in the United States have received notice that the price had been advanced 20 per cent. The figure was going back to those fixed Oct. 27, but had been subsequently cut on account of a disagreement over the details of the companies' representatives Dec. 20, at Cleveland.

The reticent statement of the price seems to indicate that the plate glass companies have come to an agreement, and that the price of plate glass will be advanced 20 per cent. The price of plate glass is now $1.00 per square foot, and will be $1.20 per square foot.
